

I was dealing with some irrational fears which basically paralyzed me so J agreed to meet with me. Over a period of three days, we waited upon the Lord until He brought up each issue that I needed to deal with. When I gained His perspective, we moved on to the next issue. The process brought healing to some wounded areas, helped me forgive myself and others, showed me where I had wrong perspectives, and gave a new intimacy with Christ.